STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Government have decided to impose a tax on agricultural income both because additional revenue is urgently needed to meet the expanding needs of the Province, and because they consider that it is equitable to impose such a tax.

2. The purpose of the Bill is to levy a tax on agricultural income arising from lands situated in Bengal. The rates are slightly less steeply graded than those existing under the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922, but the exemption limit is the same as under that Act, and there is no super-tax.

8. No class of business, other than that specified in the licence, shall be carried on at any licensed premises.

9. If the dealer is accustomed to sell motor spirit for purposes of aviation at any of his places of business—

(a) to any civil or military authority, or

(b) to any Flying Club or members thereof, or

(c) to any other person,

the licence for that place of business shall be endorsed accordingly.

10. If any application for a licence is refused the Commercial Tax Officer shall record in writing the reasons for such refusal.

11. No fee shall be payable for the issue of any licence under rule 5 or for amending any licence under rule 7 or 30.

12. When a licence is lost or destroyed a duplicate may be obtained by the licensee on payment of a fee of Rs. 2.

13. The licence shall be kept on the premises to which it relates and shall be produced at the request of any officer empowered under section 11.

14. (1) Every retail dealer shall keep correct accounts in Form C of the daily retail issues of motor spirit from his stock. The accounts of each day shall be made up and totalled before the close of the following day. If the dealer keeps a pump for delivering motor spirit, the reading of the pump issue-meter at the end of each day shall also be entered in the accounts for that day. For the purpose of this rule "day" means a period of 24 hours beginning and ending at midnight.

(2) A retail dealer who is also a wholesale dealer and who makes wholesale issues in bulk and retail issues from the same tank or other container shall keep accounts in Form C in so far as his retail business is concerned, but it shall not be necessary for him to make entries in any column other than columns 5 and 6.

(3) Accounts in Form C shall be preserved by the dealer for a period of two years.

15. Every retail dealer who is not also a wholesale dealer shall send to the appropriate Commercial Tax Officer by the 25th day of every month a return in Form D of the retail issues of the previous month from each of his supply stations.

16. Every retail dealer shall pay the tax direct into the appropriate Government Treasury; no payment of any tax or penalty shall be accepted at the office of the Commissioner or any Assistant Commissioner or any Commercial Tax Officer.

17. (1) Challans for the purpose of making payment shall be obtainable at the Calcutta branch of the Reserve Bank of India or at any Government Treasury or at the office of any Commercial Tax Officer.

(2) A wholesale dealer, who is also a retail dealer, shall send to the appropriate Commercial Tax Officer by the last day of every month a return in Form D-1 of the retail issues of the previous month from each of his depôts or supply stations.

(3) A wholesale dealer who offers to pay the tax in advance under section 3(2) shall furnish such returns as may be agreed upon between him and the Commissioner.

19. Every retail dealer shall attach one copy of the receipted challan to the return in Form D or Form D-1, as the case may be, when he sends it to the Commercial Tax Officer.

20. An allowance for loss of motor spirit by evaporation from the stocks of a retail dealer who is not also a wholesale dealer may be made up to a limit of 1 per cent. of the total amount of spirit received in any month if the supply has been made from a tank-cart or lorry, and up to a limit of 2 per cent. of the amount received if the supply has been made from casks or cans.

21. If the Commercial Tax Officer is satisfied that the leakage or loss from other cause has actually exceeded the limits prescribed in rule 20 he may for reasons to be recorded in writing make a larger allowance equal to the actual amount of the leakage or loss; but he shall not make such larger allowance for more than three months in any year without the sanction of the Assistant Commissioner.

22. If any dealer whose licence is not endorsed under rule 9 claims exemption from any amount of tax in respect of a sale of motor spirit for purposes of aviation he shall attach to the relevant return in Form D a certificate from the pilot concerned, stating the registration number of the aircraft supplied with motor spirit, the quantity supplied and the place and date of such supply.

23. When it appears to any Commercial Tax Officer to be necessary to take any action under section 7 in respect of any dealer he shall serve a notice in Form F upon him specifying—

(a) the amount of tax or additional tax, as the case may be, which such dealer is required to pay;

(b) the period in respect of which such tax is payable; and

(c) the grounds upon which the demand is made;

and he shall fix a date not less than ten days after the date of the service of the notice for considering any objection which the dealer may wish to prefer.

24. A dealer who has been served with a notice under rule 23 may prefer any objection personally or through a duly authorised agent or he may send it in writing.

25. After considering any objection which may be made by the dealer, or after the expiry of the date fixed under rule 23, the Commercial Tax Officer shall determine what amount of tax is payable by the dealer.

26. If the Commercial Tax Officer determines that any tax is payable he shall serve a notice of demand in Form G upon the dealer requiring him to pay into the appropriate Government Treasury by the date specified in the notice the amount determined to be payable, and warning him that if the amount is not paid he shall be liable to pay in addition an equal amount by way of penalty.

27. (1) If the dealer does not pay by the date specified the amount determined under rule 26 together with the amount of penalty imposed, if any, the Commercial Tax Officer shall apply to the Collector of the area in which is located the dealer's place of business or chief place of business, as the case may be, for recovery of the whole amount of tax and penalty, if any, remaining unpaid as an arrear of land-revenue.

(2) After taking the necessary action the Collector shall report to the Commercial Tax Officer what amount has been recovered and the date on which recovery has been made.

(3) On receipt of the Collector's report the Commercial Tax Officer shall make necessary entries in the appropriate columns of Register H.

28. Every Commercial Tax Officer shall maintain a register in Form H in which he shall enter the details of each case instituted under rule 23.

(2) Accounts shall be inspected at the dealer's premises and within his ordinary hours of business.

33. Before any Commercial Tax Officer takes action under section 7 or section 11(2) in respect of a wholesale dealer he shall consult the Assistant Commissioner.

34. The Commissioner shall be the authority to determine any dispute which may arise under section 12 whether any dealer is liable to pay any tax or penalty.

35. The Commissioner shall be the authority under section 17(1) to sanction the institution of any criminal proceedings.

36. The Commissioner may compound any offence punishable under the Act or any rule and may accept the money payable by the dealer by way of composition for such offence.

37. (1) When the Commissioner accepts under rule 36 any sum from any dealer by way of composition of any offence he shall issue an order in Form K directing the officer in charge of the appropriate Government Treasury to receive on his behalf the sum specified in the order, and he shall make one copy of the order over to the dealer for presentation at the Treasury at the time of payment and shall send another copy to the Treasury Officer, and a third copy to the appropriate Commercial Tax Officer.

(2) The Commissioner shall also fix a date on which the dealer shall produce before such authority as he may specify a receipted challan in proof of payment.

Refund.

38. (1) Application for refund of any tax paid by a dealer in excess of the amount due from him under the Act shall be made to the appropriate Commercial Tax Officer. It shall state how the claim for refund arises and shall contain all particulars of the challan by which the payment was made and of the return in Form D, which accompanied such challan.

(2) No fee shall be payable upon any application for refund.

(3) The Commercial Tax Officer shall sanction the refund of such amount as he is satisfied is due to be refunded.

39. When an order for refund has been passed under rule 38 the Commercial Tax Officer shall, if the dealer desires payment in cash, issue a Refund Payment Order (Cash) and shall make it over to the dealer for encashment at the appropriate Government Treasury and shall send an advice of the order to the Treasury Officer.

40. If the dealer desires payment by adjustment against any amount subsequently payable by him the Commercial Tax Officer shall issue a Refund Adjustment Order authorising the dealer to deduct the sum to be refunded from the amount payable in respect of the next return to be submitted in Form D.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1439L.C.—29th August, 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Workmen's Compensation (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1941, sponsored by the Hon'ble Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

S. K. D. GUPTA,
Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council.

Report of the Select Committee on the Workmen's Compensation (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1941.

(As introduced in the Council by the Hon'ble Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy.)

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Workmen's Compensation (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 12th August, 1941, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters recommended to be inserted have been underlined.

The Committee met on the 16th August, 1941, for the first time and concluded their sitting on the 20th August, 1941.

The Bill has not been altered by our recommendation to an extent requiring republication.

The changes made by us are detailed below.

Preamble.—We have made a slight drafting change in the preamble.

Clause 3.—We have inserted certain words in this clause by way of drafting.

Clause 4 (proposed section 24A).—We have redrafted clause 4 of the Bill and have provided that on the application of either of the parties the question shall be referred by the Commissioner to a medical referee in order to see that neither of the parties be put to difficulty and unnecessarily harassed by the other party in not coming to an agreement. We have also provided that in exceptional cases the Commissioner may also, for sufficient reasons, reject such application.

We have transferred the proviso to the proposed section 24A[illegible] added it at the end of the proposed section 24A(1) in order to make it more appropriate.

In sub-section (2) of the proposed section 24A we have made provisions for enabling the medical referee to consult other expert opinions wherever necessary in order to come to a proper diagnosis of the case.

(Proposed section 24B).—We have made slight additions to it providing for the publication of the list of medical practitioners in the official gazette so as to make it known to the public. The proviso to this section has been omitted and transferred to the end of the proposed section 24A(1).

Clause 5.—We have renumbered the proposed clauses to make them appropriate and have made certain additions to clause (ff1) as renumbered, which are consequential upon the additions made to sub-section (2) of the proposed section 24A.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Lalit Chandra Das, M.L.C.

I sign the report subject to the following note of dissent:—

In my opinion, the provisions of the Amending Bill—the Workmen's Compensation (Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1941, make the medical referee all in all on the plea of expediting the compensation proceedings. This amounts to sacrificing the substance for the shadow of the thing. The Commissioner should be given greater latitude. In order to soften the harshness of some of its provisions which are likely to operate to the detriment of the best interests of the workman, I think that after sub-section (1) of section 24A as inserted by clause 4 of the Bill, the following clause should be inserted, namely:—

> "(1a) On a medical referee being appointed under sub-section (1), it will be open to the Commissioner, either of his own motion or on the application of either party, at any time before the commencement of the medical examination of the workman or before submission by the medical referee of the report mentioned in sub-section (2), for reasons to be recorded in writing, to cancel the appointment of such medical referee and to appoint in his discretion a fresh medical referee from amongst the medical practitioners included in the list prepared under section 24B and to refer the question mentioned in sub-section (1) afresh to such medical referee."

I am further of opinion that in sub-section (4) of section 24A as inserted by clause 4 of the Bill, the word "conclusive" appearing in line 3 before the word "proof" and the word "conclusive" appearing in line 7 before the word "proof" should be omitted. The retention of the word "conclusive" will easily enable the all-powerful capitalist employer to send to the wall the poor workmen under disablement.

In actual working, the proviso to sub-section (4) though necessary will be found to be illusory—to be not of much help to the workman. It may be of some use if the suggested sub-section (1a) is adopted. The suggested amendment in (1a) and the proviso to sub-section (4) of section 24A are complementary to each other.

I am of opinion that in accordance with section 24B of the Bill as inserted by [illegible]4, the Provincial Government should prepare the list of qualified medical [illegible]s for appointment as medical referees after a general notice calling upon [illegible]loyers and the employees to submit names of qualified medical practitioners through their respective associations within a stated period and also calling for applications from duly qualified doctors at the same time. That section should be accordingly amended and should not be left to the rule-making power of the Government.

[NOTE.—All matters omitted by the Select Committee have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters inserted have been underlined.]

Provided that such report shall not so be regarded as conclusive proof of the facts related therein if in the particular proceedings the Commissioner, for reasons to be recorded by him in writing, deems it expedient in the interests of justice to allow the parties to adduce further evidence on such facts.

"[(ff1)] (ff) for prescribing the procedure relating to the reference of medical questions to medical referees under sub-section (1) of section 24A ;

[(ff2)] (ff1) for regulating the procedure relating to the medical examination of a workman by or under the personal direction of a medical referee and the submission of the report of such medical referee, under sub-section (2) of section 24A ;

[(ff3)] (ff2) for prescribing and determining the fees and expenses payable in connection with references of medical questions to medical referees under section 24A ;".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to amend the Bengal Workmen's Compensation Act (VIII of 1923) in its application to Bengal to provide for the appointment of official medical referees to whom any medical questions in dispute between employers and workmen may be referred by the Commissioner for Workmen's Compensation for a report and whose report shall be binding on both parties.

2. This measure is intended to do away with the usual practice of calling in private medical practitioners by both employers and workmen to give verbal evidence on the points under dispute and the necessity of engaging medical assessors by the Commissioner for Workmen's Compensation.

3. Not only it is expected that this measure will considerably decrease the expenditure on both sides but also shorten considerably workmen's compensation proceedings.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 1445L.C.—29th August, 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1941 sponsored by the Hon'ble Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

S. K. D. GUPTA,

Secy. to the Bengal Legis. Council.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1941.

(As introduced in the Council by the Hon'ble Mr. H. S. Suhrawardy.)

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Maternity Benefit (Tea Estates) Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Council on 12th August, 1941, have the honour to submit this our final report with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matters recommended by us to be omitted have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters recommended to be inserted have been underlined.

The Committee met on the 20th August, 1941, for the first time and concluded their sitting on 26th August, 1941.

The Bill has not been altered by our recommendation to an extent requiring republication.

The changes made by us are detailed below.

New clause 2(bb).—We have inserted this definition consequent upon the changes made in certain clauses of this Bill.

Clause 2(d).—We do not consider it advisable that benefits in kind, in lieu of money, should be included in maternity benefit provided for in clause 5 of the Bill and have accordingly omitted the portions making such provision in this clause.

Clause 2(e).—We have omitted this sub-clause as being unnecessary as provision has been made in proper places.

New clause 2(ee).—We have inserted this sub-clause in order to include, category of nurses, the midwives and trained dhais as well for [illegible]g maternity services to the women workers.

[illegible] 4.—We have made slight drafting changes in it as well as in proviso to this clause.

We have also made certain additions in the second proviso to this clause in order to make it incumbent on the women workers entitled to maternity benefit under this Act to permit themselves to be medically examined for the determination of the expected day of her delivery and also to attend any clinic or hospital and to permit herself to be treated by medical practitioner both before and after delivery, as we consider post-natal treatment to be equally necessary as the ante-natal treatment for the mother.

We have also added a further proviso to ensure that a woman is not deprived of her maternity benefit if owing to miscalculation she has failed to comply with certain provisions of this Act.

Clause 5.—We have omitted sub-clause (b) and the proviso at the end of this clause as we do not think that there should be any maternity benefit in kind.

Clause 6.—Sub-clause (1).—We have inserted this sub-clause in order to enable the women workers intending to claim maternity benefit to have the expected day of her delivery determined with the help of the medical practitioner by allowing herself to be medically examined for such purpose.

New sub-clause (1a).—We have redrafted this sub-clause and have provided for the enforcement of post-natal as well as ante-natal treatment of the women workers entitled to the maternity benefit.

Sub-clause (2).—We have omitted the words "Inspector of Factories" appearing in this sub-clause and have left the matter to the medical authority as may be prescribed for this purpose by the rules made under this Act as we consider this advisable. We have also made certain other consequential drafting changes.

Clause 7.—We have made certain drafting changes in this clause as being consequential upon the change made in the second proviso to clause 4 which provides for the inclusion of the day of delivery within the four weeks immediately preceding that day; and also upon the changes made in clause 8 by way of omitting paragraph (b) thereof.

Clause 8.—Sub-clause (1).—In paragraph (a) of this sub-clause we have made it obligatory on a woman worker entitled to maternity benefit to give notice and have made certain drafting changes in it accordingly. We think that notice by a woman should be given in any manner but the nomination should be given in the prescribed form and the clause has been altered accordingly.

We have omitted paragraph (b) of this sub-clause consequent upon the changes made in paragraph (a).

Sub-clause (2).—We have made certain changes in drafting as being consequential upon the changes made in sub-clause (1).

Sub-clause (3).—We have redrafted it by making provision for weekly payments at the rate of Rs. 1-8 per week as we consider that any amount greater than that paid at a time might not be spent for the purpose for which it is paid.

We have omitted the first proviso to this sub-clause as being consequential upon the changes made in clause 5.

We have also omitted the second proviso to this sub-clause as being unnecessary.

Sub-clause (4).—We have omitted this sub-clause as we do not consider it necessary in view of the omission of clause 8(1)(b).

New sub-clause (4).—We have added this new sub-clause to make it clear that where a woman has disentitled herself to the payment of maternity benefit under the Act the employer shall discontinue to pay maternity benefit.

New sub-clause (5).—In this sub-clause we have provided women for appeal.

Clause 9.—We consider it more practicable of enforcement if in [illegible] legal representative the words "next of kin as determined by the employer" are used.

Clause 10.—We have made certain changes which are purely of drafting nature.

Clause 11.—We have amalgamated clauses 11 and 13 as being more appropriate.

Clause 13.—We have omitted this clause as it has been amalgamated with clause 11.

Clauses 14, 15 and 17.—We have made certain changes which are drafting and consequential in nature.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Royal Commission on Labour in India made two separate recommendations regarding the provision of maternity benefits, one for women employed in perennial factories and the other for women employed in plantations. The recommendation regarding perennial factories has been implemented by the passing of the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act, 1939, the object of the present Bill is to implement the recommendation regarding plantations. On enquiry it transpired that the system of paying maternity benefits in some form or other was in vogue in the majority of the plantations, but it is considered that some sort of legislative compulsion is necessary to regularise the system and to extend it to those plantations where it does not exist at present. This Bill is designed to secure this object. The matter was discussed in a Conference with the representatives of the majority of the tea plantations and the provisions contained in the Bill are based mainly on the conclusions reached in that Conference.

Area.—The revised estimated area of jute in the three other provinces, two Indian States and the area recorded in 1940 in Bengal under Bengal Jute Regulation Act is 5,668,750 acres, an increase of 1,324,800 acres as compared with the Final Forecast figures of 1940.

Yield.—It is estimated that the crop yielded 13,186,450 bales of jute, an increase of 624,000 bales on the Final Forecast figures of 1940.

Final Review of the Jute Crop of Bengal for the year 1940.

Season.—As noticed in the Preliminary and Final Forecasts for the jute crop of Bengal, 1940, the season opened favourably for the most part. Subsequently however the weather conditions changed and there was drought or scanty or insufficient rainfall over considerable parts of North and East Bengal, which considerably affected the growth and development of the mid and highland crops. On the other hand, the Olitorius tracts of West Bengal did fairly well with generally favourable weather from the second half of July onwards. There was a general shortage of steeping water at harvest time for most of the Province. The result has been a definite falling away in the quality of the fibre from the 1940 crop.

Area of the crop.—The area of the crop as recorded under the Bengal Jute Regulation Act is 4,938,850 acres.

Outturn.—As regards outturn, the Collectors have reported from most of the districts of the Province that some areas were actually sown with jute merely to have the land recorded, such areas being later ploughed up. In other areas they have reported that a considerable acreage of the crop did not reach maturity for various reasons, and in other cases where it did, the cultivators were unable to ret the crop owing to insufficiency of retting water. This very considerably affected the outturn of jute in the districts, with the result that the percentage outturns have on the whole been poor. These percentage figures are calculated on the basis of Divisional normals which remain as follows:—

	Bales per acre.
acca and Chittagong Divisions	... 3·7
ajshahi Division	... 3·5
residency and Burdwan Divisions	... 3·2

The total outturn of the crop has been estimated at 11,465,200 bales.

Stocks.—As authoritative figures for stocks held throughout the Province on the 30th of June 1940 are not available, it has not been possible to discuss the disposal of the 1940 crop. The figures for stocks held on the 30th of June 1941, which were considerable, are however being compiled under the Act and similar figures for stocks held on 30th June 1942 will be compiled in due course. These will be used in considering the disposal of the 1941 crop.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

RESOLUTION—No. 1174L.S.-G.

Calcutta, the 26th August 1941.

READ—

The reports of the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of union boards in Bengal during the year 1939-40.

During the year under review, the total number of union boards in the province increased from 5,072 to 5,126. Of [illegible]ur new union boards, 39 w[illegible]d in the district of M[illegible]12 in the district of Kh[illegible]in Bakarganj and 1 in Midnapore. Eight unions of the Daudkandi Circle of the Tippera district, commonly known as Gazaria block, were transferred to the district of Dacca.

The total area covered by union boards was the largest in the Rajshahi Division (15,346 sq. miles), followed by Dacca (14,163 sq. miles), Presidency (12,105 sq. miles) Burdwan (10,264 sq. miles). and Chittagong (6,561 sq. miles). The total population served by union boards was the largest in the Dacca Division (12,824,219), followed by Rajshahi (9,235,466), Presidency (7,329,308), Chittagong (6,437,706) and Burdwan (6,238,444).

2. Franchise.—As in previous years, the number of voters of union boards rose from 4,892,000 to 5,436,808 owing partly to the widening of the franchise under the amended Bengal Village Self-Government Act and partly also to the establishment of the new union boards already mentioned. The total number of members of union boards also increased from 45,576 to 45,992, of which 19,975 were Hindus, 25,581 were Muslims and 436 belonged to other communities.

The elections held during the year passed off fairly smoothly and evoked keen interest among the ratepayers and considerable rivalry among candidates, indicating growing appreciation of the usefulness, popularity and importance of these self-governing institutions.

3. Finance.—During the year under review, the total income of the union boards excluding the opening balances increased from Rs. 101·37 lakhs to Rs. 104·98 lakhs. The receipts from the union rate increased from Rs. 75·54 lakhs to Rs. 80·56 lakhs, out of which Rs. 18·35 lakhs represented the rate imposed under section 37(b) of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act and Rs. 62·21 lakhs represented the chaukidari rate under section 37(a) of the said Act as against Rs. 15·33 lakhs and Rs. 60·21 lakhs, respectively, in the preceding year. The year under review was marked by an increase in Government contributions from Rs. 2·08 lakhs to Rs. 2·45 lakhs but this was counterbalanced by a decrease in contributions from district boards under sections 33 and 45 of the Village Self-Government Act which fell from Rs. 1·81 lakhs to Rs. 1·75 lakhs and from Rs. 3·36 lakhs to Rs. 3·03 lakhs respectively. The contributions from other sources also fell from Rs. 3·17 lakhs to Rs. 2·70 lakhs.

The total expenditure of the union boards increased from Rs. 101·74 lakhs to Rs. 103·46 lakhs of which a sum of Rs. 51·54 lakhs or about 49·8 per cent. of the total expenditure was spent on the salaries and equipment of the chaukidars and dafadars. Of the total expenditure incurred by the Boards during the year under review, a sum of Rs. 8·49 lakhs was spent on the construction and maintenance of village roads, of which Rs. 2·91 lakhs represented original works; a sum of Rs. 8·18 lakhs on water-supply of which Rs. 6·89 lakhs represented original works; a sum of Rs. 2·72 lakhs on drainage, conservancy and other sanitary measures; Rs. 3·01 lakhs on primary education and Rs. 3·60 lakhs on medical relief.

The audit of the union boards was carried out as usual by the Circle Officers. No serious instances of defalcation came to light in any Board except one in the Dhonkail union board in the district of Dinajpur where the President was criminally prosecuted for defalcation and misappropriation of public money. The President of the Rampur union board was prosecuted for an offence involving moral turpitude. The Presidents of three union boards in the Dinajpur district were removed for gross neglect of duty.

4. Activities of the Union Boards.—

(i) Communications.—The total expenditure on the construction and maintenance of village roads rose from Rs. 7·94 lakhs to Rs. 8·49 lakhs of which Rs. 2·91 lakhs represented expenditure on original works. In the Dinajpur district, a number of new roads were constructed by several union boards with the help of voluntary labour. In Jalpaiguri, fifty miles of new roads were constructed in addition to repairs of existing roads. The Tarash, Shahazadpur and certain other union boards in Pabna constructed several miles of new roads besides undertaking the repair of their existing roads. A satisfactory feature of this year's working of the union boards, so far as communications were concerned, was that the union boards generally directed their attention more to the maintenance of existing roads in good repair than to the construction of new ones.

(ii) Water-supply.—The total amount spent by union boards on water-supply during the year under review was Rs. 8·18 lakhs as against Rs. 9·61 lakhs in the preceding year. The major portion of this amount (viz., Rs. 6·89 lakhs) represented expenditure on original works. The union boards of the Burdwan district spent Rs. 50,544 on water-supply against Rs. 57,706 in the preceding year. The union boards of all the districts in the Presidency Division spent a larger sum on water-supply than in the preceding year.

In the Dacca Division, the union boards of Mymensingh maintained their high standard of expenditure under this head and spent Rs. 1,37,400 on original works and Rs. 7,888 on repairs.

Other districts with comparatively large expenditure by union boards on rural water-supply were Dacca (Rs. 86,000), Faridpur (Rs. 63,000), Dinajpur (Rs. 57,000), Rangpur (Rs. 45,000), Tippera (Rs. 39,000) and Pabna (Rs. 38,000). Government, however, regret to note that, except in a few districts, the annual expenditure incurred by the union boards on water-supply has been steadily on the decline. A comprehensive scheme for solving the problem of rural water-supply throughout the province within a given period, in co-operation with the local bodies, is at present under the serious consideration of Government. Until this scheme is put into effect, it is extremely desirable that the union boards of the province should devote as large a portion of their funds as may be reasonably possible on the provision of sources of water-supply in their respective areas.

(iii) Public Health.—The total expenditure by the union boards on sanitation, including drainage and conservancy, was Rs. 2·72 lakhs against Rs. 2·71 lakhs in the preceding year. In Rajshahi, many union boards maintained their high standard of sanitary and conservancy arrangements, the most noticeable among them being those of Naogaon and Siliguri which did practically the work of municipalities in the matter of conservancy. As in the previous year, the Charghat union board maintained conservancy and drainage arrangements for persons resident within the union and realised latrine tax from those who [illegible]. The Nischintapur, [illegible] and Parbatipur union boards [illegible] formed sanitary boards to [illegible] their conservancy and sanitary arrangements.

Voluntary labour played an increasingly important part in jungle-cutting, clearing of insanitary tanks and dobas, eradicating water hyacinth and improving the sanitary condition of rural areas.

The union boards of several districts spent comparatively large sums on drainage, the most notable among them being Khulna (Rs. 12,476), Faridpur (Rs. 10,872), and Nadia (Rs. 10,269).

(iv) Medical Relief.—The total expenditure by the union boards on medical relief in rural areas amounted to Rs. 3·60 lakhs against Rs. 3·13 lakhs in the preceding year. Backed by grants from Government and the district board, the union boards of Nadia took extensive measures for combating kala-azar. Many dispensaries did useful work in providing necessary medical relief to the rural public. Three union boards started Colonel Nag Type dispensaries which received a grant of Rs. 100 each from the district board.

In the Rajshahi Division, the union boards of all the districts, except Rajshahi, spent more on medical relief than in the preceding year. In Rajshahi, dispensaries were started by many union boards and the union board dispensary at Arani in the Sadar and 4 in the Naogaon subdivision continued to be run independently without any aid from the district board. In Jalpaiguri, 5 dispensary buildings were constructed entirely by voluntary labour and local contributions. In the Gaibandha subdivision, 2 dispensaries were run by two union boards with financial help from some neighbouring union boards. Fourteen union boards in Bogra maintained charitable dispensaries with or without subsidies from the district board or from Government. Thirteen dispensaries in Pabna were maintained by the union boards and one union board maintained a homeopathic charitable dispensary.

(v) Primary Education.—The total outlay by the union boards on primary education during the year rose from Rs. 2·93 lakhs to Rs. 3·01 lakhs. In the Rajshahi Division, the union boards of all the districts except Jalpaiguri, spent more on primary education than in the previous year. The Bairchuna union in the Thakurgaon subdivision maintain free primary schools.

In Rajshahi, the drive against adult illiteracy was carried on with commendable zeal by the Palli Mangal Samities and the night schools started by them did good work with the help of grants-in-aid from many union boards.

In Pabna, special attention was directed to adult education and 516 centres were maintained in the Serajganj subdivision which imparted education to Rs. 14,099 people. In the Sadar subdivision of the district, 104 night schools were started for adults.

In the Malda and the Jalpaiguri districts, 150 and 21 schools, respectively, were started for adult education. The night schools in Malda were mostly run on the musti rice system.

Reading rooms and libraries were maintained by seven union boards in the Sadar subdivision of the Dinajpur district and one public library was started at Lalpur in the Natore subdivision with financial aid from the local union board.

The districts in which comparatively large expenditure was incurred by the union boards under this head were Dinajpur (Rs. 26,810), Pabna (Rs. 23,647), Burdwan (Rs. 21,389), Jessore (Rs. 20,907), Khulna (Rs. 20,316), Rangpur (Rs. 19,374) and Birbhum (Rs. 17,920).

(vi) Some features of special interest.—A satisfactory feature of the year's working was that the union boards of many districts ended the year with an increased closing balance and as a result they had no difficulty in promptly paying their chaukidars and dafadars during the opening months of the following year. It is gratifying to note that, in order to ensure the regular and prompt payment of salaries to the chaukidars and the dafadars during the first quarter of the year, all the union boards of Pabna built up reserve funds.

Another satisfactory feature is that union boards of many districts displayed commendable energy in the matter of collection of the union rates and thereby improved their financial condition as will be evident from the increase in total income of union boards from this source. In the Rajshahi Division, the union boards of all districts realised more than 83 per cent. of their demands and in the Chittagong Division, some union boards attained even cent. per cent. collection.

The vigorous campaign against adult illiteracy in Rajshahi and Pabna is a feature of great interest during the year under review. This may with profit be emulated in other districts of the province.

A number of union boards in the Rajshahi Division did good work in connection with the eradication of water-hyacinth and also played an important part in carrying on jute restriction propaganda and in helping the Jute Restriction Department.

5. Union benches and union courts —Union benches.—Union benches have been established under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919 in all the districts of Bengal except Darjeeling. The total number of benches established and in existence was 2,166 against 1,515 in the previous year. The number of offences reported to these benches was 92,752 showing a decrease of 922 over that of 1938. The working of the union benches continued to be satisfactory on the whole. They afforded appreciable relief to the ordinary courts by disposing of a fair number of petty cases during the year. These village tribunals are growing in popularity as they administer speedy justice locally at a very low cost and without any elaborate legal procedure.

Union courts.—Union courts have also been established under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, in all the districts in Bengal except Darjeeling. The total number of courts established was 1,695 against 1,428 in the previous year. The number of suits instituted in these courts was 64,394 showing a decrease of 8,305 over that of the preceding year. Of the total number of applications for disposal during the year under report under the proviso to section 88 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 69 cases were either dismissed or not prosecuted. In 102 cases the lower courts' orders were confirmed, in 27 modified, and in 57 reversed and 21 cases were remanded for retrial. The union courts are reported, generally, to be popular and useful to poor litigants as speedy redress is available locally at a very low cost and to be affording some relief to the Munsifs in the majority of the districts. Some District Judges are of opinion that the utility of these courts would increase if a better personnel could be ensured and that further improvements and stricter supervision over the courts are required in order to free them from the suspicion of corruption and malpractices as far as possible. It is reported from some districts that the introduction of the Debt Settlement Boards has affected the work of these courts to some extent.

6. Relations between the district boards and the union boards.—It is regrettable to note that the year under review witnessed a further decrease in the total grants made by the district boards under section 45 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act which fell from Rs. 3·36 lakhs to Rs. 3·03 lakhs, representing only 16·5 per cent. of the amount raised by the union boards under section 37(b) of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act and 32·3 per cent. of the amount of the augmentation grants received by the district boards during the year from the Provincial revenues, as compared with 22 per cent. and 36 per cent., respectively, in the preceding year. The district boards in the Chittagong and Rajshahi Divisions maintained their standard of contributions to the union boards under section 45 of the Village Self-Government Act, while those of the other Divisions curtailed their grants, the most noticeable decrease being in the Burdwan and the Presidency Divisions where the grants paid by the district boards amounted to Rs. 52,676 and Rs. 67,084, respectively, against Rs. 66,261 and Rs. 84,480, respectively, in the preceding year. This reduction of the amount of financial assistance from the district boards is reported to have been due, in some measure, to the many commitments of the boards and the various demands on their resources. But Government cannot too strongly impress upon the district boards the necessity of rendering adequate financial aid to the union boards in order to enable them to undertake works of public utility for the benefit of the rural areas.

The amount contributed by the district boards under section 33 of the Act for the management of works and institutions transferred by them to the union boards also decreased from Rs. 1·81 lakhs to Rs. 1;75 lakhs, but the total income of the union boards from pounds, which represents a transfer of district board revenue to the union boards, increased from Rs. 2·14 lakhs to Rs. 2·35 lakhs during the year under review.

Except in the matter of financial assistance to union boards, the general relation between the district boards and the union boards continued to be otherwise quite satisfactory.

General remarks.—Du[illegible] year under review, the union [illegible] ved a fairly satisfactory p[illegible] all directions within the li[illegible] the resources at their disposal. There was a sign of general improvement in the collection of union rates and the union boards of several districts displayed commendable energy in this direction.

Although in several cases the progress of the union boards was retarded by unhealthy party rivalry, there were indications of a gradual development in the minds of the Presidents and Members of a sense of their rights and duties and also of a wider appreciation by the general public of the beneficial measures adopted by the boards. Union boards were of great help to the Police in the matter of prevention and detection of crimes in local areas. Valuable assistance was also rendered by union boards in the organisation of Village Defence Parties. Cordial relations subsisted between the union boards and the Circle Officers, the Police and other local officers of Government.

Certain contracts not to affect the provisions of the Act.

30. Nothing in any contract between a landlord and a tenant made after the commencement of this Act shall take away or limit the rights of such tenant as provided for by this Act, and any contract which is made in contravention of the provisions of this section or which is inconsistent with, or purports to alter the effect of, any of the provisions of this Act, shall, to the extent of such contraventions or inconsistency or to the extent it purports to alter such effect, be void and without effect.

proceedings under this Act.

31. When under this Act a Court is authorized to make an order on the application of a landlord or a tenant, the application shall be made to the Civil Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for possession of the non-agricultural land comprised in the tenancy in connection with which the application is brought.

Application.

32. The provisions of this Act shall have effect in respect of all suits or proceedings including proceedings in execution for ejectment of a non-agricultural tenant which are pending at the date of commencement of this Act.

Rules.

33. (1) The Provincial Government may, subject to the condition of previous publication, make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely :—

(a) the manner in which the landlord or the tenant may apply to the Court under sub-section (2) of section 7 ;

(b) the forms of the notices referred to in sections 14 and 15, the manner of service of such notices and the amount of the process fees referred to in the said section ;

(c) the manner in which the landlord's fees referred to in section 15 shall be transmitted to the landlord, the costs of transmission of such fees and the manner of payment of the landlord's fees and cost of transmission under sub-section (12) of that section ; and

(d) the determination of a fair and equitable rent referred to in sub-section (3) of section 21.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Government have considered the Report of the Non-Agricultural Land Enquiry Committee and are of the opinion that notwithstanding the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, the non-agricultural tenants who hold lands under a lease for residential, business, manufacturing or other purposes are in need of better security. It is obvious, however, that the degree of protection cannot be the same for all classes of tenants and it has been considered necessary to make a distinction between tenancies which are—

(1) of unknown origin or which originated from before the Transfer of Property Act, 1882 ;

(2) held under a written lease for a specified period of not less than twelve years ;

(3) held under a written lease but without specification of any period or without a written lease but originating from after the Transfer of Property Act, 1882, in either case the period of possession not being less than twelve years ;

(4) held under a written lease or otherwise for a period of more than one year but less than twelve years.

It is proposed to confer permanent, heritable and transferable rights on all tenants coming under (1). Lessees under (2) should have a right of renewal on fair and equitable terms, but in case the lessor has allowed a pucca structure to be constructed on the land, the tenant should have the status of a permanent lessee irrespective of the period of occupation. Lessees under (3) should have a permanent heritable right. All holdings coming under (2) and (3) should be transferable on payment of a landlords' transfer fee. A perversion of user or a breach of a condition of the contract should be the only grounds on which a tenant under (1), (2) and (3) can be evicted. In case of tenants under (4) provision has been made for payment of compensation under certain circumstances in case of eviction.

The Bill has been drafted to provide for these protective rights and also to confer other incidental but necessary rights on the non-agricultural tenants of the different classes.

No. 2162F.—4th September 1941.—In exercise of the powers conferred by clause (b) of sub-section (2) of section 241 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor is pleased to make the following amendment in the Bengal Service Rules, namely:—

Amendment.

Insert the following as Note 6 under rule 185:—

Note 6.—The leave earned by the period of duty intervening between the refusal of leave pending retirement and the date of compulsory retirement is merged in the common pool in the leave account and forms an indistinguishable part of the total leave at credit the whole of which, with the exception only of the net amount of leave refused, lapses under clause (1) of rule 185 on the date of compulsory retirement. The grant of any leave between the date from which the "refusal of leave" took effect and the date of superannuation should therefore be held to be a grant of leave against the amount originally refused. The amount of leave admissible under clause (1) after superannuation in such a case is therefore the amount of leave originally refused minus the amount of the "post-refusal" leave enjoyed; and this difference is subject to a maximum of six months. This principle applies equally to leave available under clause (2) including that earned in respect of duty during a period of refused leave.

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT.

PRESS COMMUNIQUE.

Simla, the 14th August 1941.

Coffee Control Scheme.

It is understood that transactions in coffee, including forward sales, are likely to be entered into by owners of coffee estates on the assumption that legislation on the lines of existing Indian Coffee Market Expansion Ordinance will be undertaken, but that such legislation would accord a measure of immunity from control to contracts for the sale of coffee for forward delivery. The terms of any such prospective legislation will be formulated in consultation with the coffee industry and it is not possible to forecast them at present.

The Government of India desire to emphasize that persons who now speculate upon the probable terms of any such legislation do so entirely at their own risk. If and when legislation comes into force, representations for the special treatment of the transactions referred to above are not likely to receive any special consideration.

Under Secy. to the Govt. of India.

No. 1037L.—5th September 1941.—The following Act of the Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information.

Bengal Act VII of 1941.

THE EASTERN FRONTIER RIFLES (BENGAL BATTALION AMENDMENT) ACT, 1941.

[Passed by the Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 11th September 1941.]

An Act further to amend the Eastern Frontier Rifles (Bengal Battalion) Act, 1920.

Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

NOTIFICATION.

New Delhi, the 4th August, 1941.

No. F. 118-I./41-A.—Under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules, the Governor General has been pleased to order the publication in the Gazette of India of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly published for general information:—

L. A. BILL No. 23 OF 1941.

A Bill further to amend the Factories Act, 1934.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Factories Act, 1934, for the purpose hereinafter appearing; XXV of 1934.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Factories (Amendment) Act, 1941.

Substitution of new section for section 5, Act XXV of 1934.

2. For section 5 of the Factories Act, 1934, the following section shall be substituted, namely:— XXV of 1934.

Power to apply provisions applicable to factories to certain other places.

"5. (1) The Provincial Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that all or any of the provisions of this Act applicable to factories shall apply to any place wherein a manufacturing process is being carried on or is ordinarily carried on whether with or without the use of power whenever ten or more workers are working therein or have worked therein on any one day of the twelve months immediately preceding.

(2) A notification under sub-section (1) may be made in respect of any one such place or in respect of any class of such places or generally in respect of all such places.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in clause (j) of section 2, a place, to which all or any of the provisions of this Act applicable to factories are for the time being applicable in pursuance of a declaration under sub-section (1), shall, to the extent to which such provisions are so made applicable but not otherwise, be deemed to be a factory."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 5 of the Factories Act, 1934, has been found defective in two respects. In the first place, a notification under sub-section (1) can apply only to such factories as were in existence on the date of the notification and not to factories similar in all respects which may be established subsequently (though of course such later established factories could be notified separately). Secondly, factories once brought under the scope of the Act by virtue of a notification under sub-section (1) may subsequently cease to be under it by the operation of the provisions in sub-section (3), if they employ less than 10 workers continuously for 12 months, and if a factory goes out of the ambit of the Act in this manner, a fresh notification will be necessary to bring it back within the Act when it again employs more than 10 persons. The Bill which is intended to remedy these defects, seeks to give power to Provincial Governments to enable them to notify once for all the application of the provisions of the Act to any specified classes of establishments employing 10 or more persons.

RESOLUTION—No. 2202F.

Calcutta, the 12th September 1941.

In view of the lighting restrictions now in force in Calcutta and its suburbs the Government of Bengal are anxious that the number of persons who have to be transported after nightfall through the streets of Calcutta should be kept as low as possible. It is essential therefore to arrange that the great bulk of office workers are released at least one hour before sunset. One measure that will contribute materially towards this end is the advancement of the clock. At the instance of the principal Chambers of Commerce in Calcutta the Government of Bengal have already addressed the Government of India and recommended that for the duration of the war Indian Standard Time be advanced by one hour. This proposal is still under the consideration of the Government of India. In the meantime the Government of Bengal consider it desirable that with effect from the 1st October 1941 until further notice Calcutta Time should be moved forward by thirty-six minutes thereby making it one hour ahead of the present Indian Standard Time and that a uniform time should be observed throughout Bengal.

2. The Government of Bengal are accordingly pleased to direct that with effect from the 1st October 1941 until further notice the time observed in all Government offices in Bengal shall be a time one hour in advance of the present Indian Standard Time. For purposes of reference this time will be known as "Bengal Time". To give effect to this decision clocks will be advanced at midnight on the night of 30th September/1st October.

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (3) of section 266 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor is pleased to make the following regulation, namely:—

"223. Works establishment will include such establishment as is employed upon the execution or the immediate technical supervision, of a specific work or of sub-works of a specific project or upon the subordinate supervision of the departmental labour, stores, and machinery, in connection with such a work or sub-works. When employees borne on the temporary establishment are employed on work of this nature, their pay should, for the time being, be charged direct to the work.

Note 1.—Choukidars employed to guard departmental stores and machinery in connection with a specific work or sub-works of a specific project may be treated as works establishment.

Note 2.—Superintending Engineers may waive the rule, which prescribes that works establishments must be employed upon a specific work, and determine in such cases the proportions in which the cost of such establishment shall be allocated between the works concerned.

In the case of repairs, however, the cost may be debited monthly in accordance with the proportions fixed in advance by the Superintending Engineer for the year or the total period of engagement, irrespective of the fact that the establishment has not yet been employed on the particular work during the month for which the debit is made, provided that the establishment is employed on the work for some time during the period it is engaged and that no debit is made on account of the wages of establishment for periods of unemployment, except in cases mentioned in Rule 226, Note 1.

(1) that provision for such establishment has been made in a separate subhead of the sanctioned estimate, and

(2) that the pay of any such work-charged post shall not exceed the prescribed rate in cases where such rates have been definitely laid down by higher authority for any particular class of posts.

N.B.—Lump sums fixed in lieu of estimates for repairs will be deemed to include such provision."

Page 72.—Rule 225.—Substitute the following for rule 225 as amended by correction slip No. 81, dated 9th October 1930:—

"225. In all cases, the previous sanction of the Divisional Officer or the Superintending Engineer or the Chief Engineer, as the case may be, is necessary. Orders communicating sanction should specify in respect of each appointment (1) the consolidated rate of pay, (2) the period of sanction, and (3) the full name (as given in the estimate) of the work and the nature of the duties on which the man engaged would be employed."

General Summary.—The week was characterized generally by fine weather and an absence of rain; but in North Bengal and in Champaran the rainfall was abundant, and in other districts of Bihar and in Bhagalpur and Purnea there were fairly heavy showers. In Rangpur the very heavy downpour is reported to have caused floods in places. Aus rice and jute are generally reported good, but the cultivation of winter rice is retarded in many districts for want of rain. In the Patna Division the sowing of the bhadoi crops and paddy is in progress, and the marua is being transplanted. Cattle-disease is still reported from Dinajpur, Chittagong and Bhagalpur. The price of common rice continues almost stationary.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 83, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; d., dew.

Chota Nagpur. CHOTA NAGPUR.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1895.

THE chief peculiarities in the weather which obtained during June are:—

1. The high pressure which prevailed over the province, and the consequent uniform distribution over the area, including the Bay as well as the land.

2. The easterly winds which were due to the pressure distribution, and the westerly deflection of the moist current from the Bay towards the Orissa coast.

3. As this was much more marked during the present year than is usually the case, weather has been less cloudy in Assam, North Bengal, and also in East Bengal, and temperature has been higher, as compared with the normal, than in the western districts.

4. The influence of the pressure distribution is, however, much more marked in the rainfall distribution, as the average fall in East and North Bengal is less than half the normal, while in Orissa it is more than double, and very little short of 20 inches. The difference in the other districts is small, but there is excess in Chota Nagpur and part of South-West Bengal and defect in Bihar.

5. The first storm of the monsoon season became fairly well defined on the 17th, and soon afterwards crossed the Orissa coast. The second depression of any importance was towards the end of the month, and it also developed in the north-west angle, but crossed the coast between Saugor Island and Balasore.

During the intervening days a shallow low pressure area remained in the south-western districts or the north-west angle of the Bay, altering its position irregularly with the small pressure changes which then obtained. At one time it was over South-West Bengal, at another in the angle of the Bay, and again in Orissa. Though it had little influence in causing disturbed weather, the light cyclonic circulation gave rise to heavy rain in the parts affected. It ultimately appeared to develop into the storm at the end of the month.

During the first half of the month there were few changes of importance. Pressure continued high, and fine weather generally obtained. Local changes resulted in thunderstorms which caused occasional heavy rainfall, but throughout this part of the month, the average fall was below the normal over the whole province, more so in the second than the first week, and especially in the north and east. An important difference is shown in the changes which took place during these two weeks. As a rule, at this season of the year any change in weather is first felt in the eastern districts, and from there spreads westwards over the province. This arrangement obtained in the first week, as far as rainfall and temperature were affected. But during the second, though pressure remained very high at all stations, the slow downward change which then set in, somewhat more rapidly in Assam and North Bengal, was followed by westerly winds and a series of thunderstorms which began in the west and extended towards the north-east. A fall of temperature followed the rainfall, beginning in the south-west and advancing towards the north-east, and by the 11th there was defect in mean temperature over the whole province except in North Bengal and part of Assam, where there was still excess of two or three degrees.

As pressure continued to give way over Bengal and Assam, readings became relatively low in the east, and westerly winds set in, at first in Assam, and afterwards over the whole of the province of Bengal. On the 12th, directions were south-west or west in East Bengal and Assam, and on the 13th the only easterly winds were reported from the west of Bihar. When this westerly current became general, temperature rose steadily, and fine calm weather prevailed for two or three days, but a second series of thunderstorms moved across the province from the south-west on the 14th and 15th, being on the latter date confined chiefly to Bihar and North Bengal.

The steady fall of pressure which had continued with little interruption during the second week almost entirely removed the large excess which had previously obtained, and at the same time a depression began to form in the east of the Bay. Strong westerly winds were blowing across the south of the Bay towards the low pressure area, which moved slowly towards the north-west and became well defined not far from the Orissa coast about the 17th. The wind system over Bengal again became easterly as the depression moved northwards, and this easterly circulation was an important feature of the weather during the latter half of the month, as to its steady existence the irregular distribution of the rainfall appears to be due.

The depression became better defined on the 17th, and the cyclonic circulation more regular. On the 18th its centre was not far from the Orissa coast, and though the downward changes of pressure were only slow in the west of the Bay, the depression had concentrated in consequence of a rise which had prevailed both to the north-west and south-east of it. This rise was rapid in the south of Burmah and brisk in the west of Bihar. On the morning of the 19th the centre of the depression was still to the east of Orissa, but about noon it crossed the coast between False Point and Puri, moving in a westerly direction. The fall of pressure had remained slow in the north-west angle of the Bay. On the other hand, the rise was again rapid in Burmah, and gradients were much steeper over the Bay. Strong winds developed and followed the depression into the north-west angle, while the steeper gradients over the province were attended by strong easterly winds at all stations. General rain fell on the 19th, the heaviest being in Orissa near the centre of the disturbance.

After the centre crossed the coast the depression soon filled up, and the squally weather moderated very quickly—a change which was probably due to the recovery of pressure which which appeared over the north of the Bay and South-West Bengal on the 21st. On that day there was a rapid rise of pressure in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and a brisk fall over Assam and North Bengal. Probably it was owing to the irregularity of these changes that this low pressure area formed, but it was attended by a cyclonic circulation of light winds and by heavy rainfall in South-West Bengal and the east of Chota Nagpur. Meanwhile in North Bengal rainfall had to a large extent ceased, and though still general in East Bengal, it was light. In North Bihar also, owing to the northerly winds due to the pressure distribution, rainfall was becoming scattered. On the 22nd, the low pressure area was in the north of South-West Bengal. On the 23rd a rapid but local fall of pressure over Orissa transferred it to that area and the adjacent part of the sea. On the 24th it was not far from Chaibassa, but it had become very diffused. On the 25th there was a slow rise of pressure in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, and a slow fall elsewhere—changes which, though unimportant in themselves, appear to have led to the beginning of the cyclonic storm which controlled the weather during the last few days of the month. The immediate result of the changes was a diffused depression again over the north-west angle of the Bay. Winds were again cyclonic there and easterly inland, but the depression was so slight that defect was only ·05 inch in Bengal, Arakan and Orissa, while further south readings were nearly normal. During these days unusually fine weather prevailed over a great part of the province. The skies were lightly clouded, rainfall scattered, and temperature about 2° above the normal.

On the 26th a fairly rapid fall of pressure prevailed in the east of the Bay and led to defect of between ·1 inch and ·15 inch over the part of the Bay between Orissa and Arakan. The depression became more distinct, with its centre in the north-west angle, and cyclonic winds prevailed over a considerable area, of moderate strength in the south of the Bay, but very light on its northern side. During the next two days it slowly changed its position, but steadily developed, and weather became squally over the greater part of the Bay. Wind remained south-westerly at Diamond Island, and increased daily in strength, the highest velocity being 20 miles an hour on the 27th and 28th. As the area of lowest pressure moved slowly to the north-westward, very heavy rain fell in Orissa. On the morning of the 27th, Puri reported nearly 8 inches and Cuttack 3 inches. On the 28th pressure fell rapidly at Saugor Island and Balasore, and the centre of the depression passed the coast line between these two stations some time during the day. The lowest readings of the barometer were under 29·2 inches, and the greatest defect was about a third of an inch. On the 29th the centre was near Chaibassa, moving rather rapidly towards the north-west. On the 30th it had entered the North-West Provinces, and pressure was rising very rapidly in Chota Nagpur and South-West Bengal and changing slightly in Bihar.

While the depression was deepening in the north of the Bay, gradients became gradually steeper over Bengal. On the 26th the difference between the lowest and highest readings at Saugor Island and Jalpaiguri, respectively, was only ·08 inch. On the 27th it had increased to ·14 inch, on the 28th to ·27 inch, and on the 29th the difference between Chaibassa and Dhubri was about ·35 inch. This steady steepening of the gradient from north-east to south-west led to strong winds over the whole province. Rainfall was light in all districts except Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and the adjacent part of South-West Bengal.

After the centre of the disturbance crossed the coast, strong southerly winds blew on the coast of Orissa and at Saugor Island. The squally weather, however, which followed the area of lowest pressure continued in the north-west angle for but a short timee, as the pressure distribution recovered more rapidly than usual.

Pressure in the early part of the month remained high over the whole province, and as excess diminished towards the south of the Bay, where it was very slight, the distribution was unusually uniform. From the 9th to the 17th readings steadily diminished, and the difference from the normal was then small in Bengal, but was over ·15 inch in the east of the Bay, where the first depression was developing. After that the downward changes were slow even near the centre of the disturbance, and the recovery was complete on the 21st. From the 22nd to the 27th changes were never large, but they were more irregular than usual, and generally with a downward tendency. As the second depression developed, readings became very low in South-West Bengal and Orissa, and on the morning of the 28th, shortly before the centre crossed the coast, there was defect of ·3 inch at Saugor Island and Balasore. On the 29th it was still falling in Chota Nagpur, but on the 30th the recovery was very quick, the rise being a quarter of an inch in Chaibassa. Mean pressure for the whole month is above the normal at all stations, by about ·01 inch in Orissa, and by slowly increasing amounts towards the north, where it is ·05 inch.

Temperature has been below the normal in the south-western districts and generally high in the east and north. In the early part of the month there was a fall in North Bengal and Assam, when thunderstorms occurred in these parts, but during the latter half there was an almost steady excess of one or two degrees. In the south-western districts defect was as much as 5° when the depressions were crossing these parts, and generally throughout the month there has been a small defect. The means for the month are below the normal in Orissa, Chota Nagpur, and South-West Bengal by about 1°, and above in the other districts, by 0°·7 in East Bengal and Bihar, by 1° in North Bengal, and 1°·7 in Assam.

Rainfall.—As stated above, the rainfall distribution has been very different from that usual during June. In Orissa the falls reported from the various stations vary from 15 inches to 26 inches, and the average is 18·58 inches. These amounts are all greatly in excess, the differences from the normal varying from 8·6 inches at Jagatsingpur to 17·84 inches at Kendrapara. East and North Bengal, on the other hand, have received less than which has received more than the normal amount, but the excess is less than 1 inch, while in South-West Bengal defect is nearly 2 inches, and in Bihar more than 2 inches.

Buxa has received 26·4 inches less than the usual amount, Jalpaiguri, Kuch Bihar, Matabhanga, and Cox's Bazar about 20 inches less, and the following places more than 15 inches less:—Fenny, Netrakona, Kurigaon, Mickliganj, and Dinhatta. In the other districts defect generally varies from one to five inches.

The following table gives the actual falls in the various divisions, expressed as percentages of the corresponding normals for the first six months of the year. In the last column the total fall for the same period is so expressed, and it will be seen that there is a large defect in all districts except Orissa and Chota Nagpur:—

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING 8 A.M., SATURDAY, THE 13TH OF JULY 1895.

It has been pointed out in previous reports that an important feature of the weather during the latter half of June and the early part of July was the low pressure which obtained in the south-western districts and the north-west angle of the Bay, and that this appeared to be the chief cause of the unequal distribution of rainfall during these weeks. The monsoon current was deflected westwards across the mouth of the Bay towards the Orissa coast, and unusually heavy rain fell at all the Orissa stations, while in North and East Bengal the falls were unusually deficient.

During the present week there has been an almost complete reversal of the conditions referred to above. Pressure, instead of being lowest in Orissa and the adjacent parts, has been lowest in the north-east of the province, and the rainfall in Assam and North Bengal has been almost phenomenal as to the amount that fell in the early part of the week. Bihar and Chota Nagpur have received more than the normal fall, but in Lower Bengal and Orissa, especially the latter, rainfall has been light and scattered and in places absent.

On the 7th, the first day of the week under review, pressure was lowest over North Bengal and the east of Bihar, and though pressure was above the normal at all stations, a faint depression was visible more through the air circulation which it gave rise to. There was an easterly current down the Assam Valley and as far west as Jalpaiguri, while in Lower Bengal directions were southerly, and in Chota Nagpur and Bihar, south-west or west. Heavy rain was falling at all the stations affected by the easterly winds, especially Sibsagar, Dhubri, and Jalpaiguri. On the 8th there was a slow fall of pressure over the hills and the adjacent part of the plains, and a slow rise further south. In consequence the depression was more distinct, but was further north as south-westerly winds were blowing at Dhubri. The heavy rain continued at Jalpaiguri and Dhubri, and the unsettled weather was felt as far west as Motihari. On the 9th, pressure fell almost everywhere, somewhat more quickly at the extreme northern stations, but a slight recovery was shown in part of North Bengal and Bihar, at such stations as Rangpur, Dinajpur, and Purnea. There was a small defect at Jalpaiguri, and a larger one at Darjeeling, and as winds were now south-west at both these places, the slight depression must have passed across the Himalayas. Heavy rain was still falling in North Bengal and North Bihar, being probably due to local thunderstorms which invariably follow the passage of a depression from the plains to the hill tracts. On the 10th pressure rose briskly in North Bengal and North Bihar, and the distribution, though rather high, was not very different from the normal one of the day. The unsettled weather, however, continued, and Dhubri and Jalpaiguri reported 11 and 7 inches of rain, respectively, while 3 inches fell at Darjeeling and Motihari. During the last three days of the week winds were becoming more normal in direction, sotuh-easterly in North Bengal and easterly in Bihar. The rainfall became much less, though moderate showers were still falling in North Bengal.

During these days comparatively fine weather prevailed in Lower Bengal and Orissa. Showers were fairly general in the early part of the week, except in the 24-Parganas, Howrah, and Hooghly districts, where very little rain fell throughout. The scanty rainfall in these south-western districts was probably due to the ridge of high pressure which maintained its position over Orissa and part of South-West Bengal from day to day. It has been seen that the small changes of pressure in the north of the province gave rise to a very shallow depression which was accompanied by excessive rainfall. This rainfall ceased with the filling up of the depression, due to a rise of pressure of about ·06 inch. Similarly, the inequality of about ·05 inch in Orissa and South-West Bengal has led to a break in the rains of considerable duration.

Pressure.—Readings have been higher than the corresponding normal amounts at nearly all stations throughout the week, and changes have been small or moderate. Excess has been greatest in the south-west of the province, and as it has varied but little from day to-day, the means for these parts are much higher than is usual during a period when larger fluctuations are occurring. In South-West Bengal and Orissa mean excess varies from ·1 inch to ·12 inch, and in the other districts it is generally about ·08 inch, at Sibsagar it is ·05 inch, at Jalpaiguri ·07 inch, and at Darjeeling the mean pressure is very nearly normal.

Temperature has been above the normal except in the north of the province and in Assam, that is, in the area of unsettled weather and heavy rainfall. Mean excess is 1° or more in Chota Nagpur, Orissa, and East Bengal; in South-West Bengal the mean temperature is normal, and in the other districts there has been defect of about half a degree in Bihar, 1°·6 in North Bengal, and 3°·5 in Assam.

Rainfall.—Excessive rain fell in Assam and North Bengal during the first four days of the week, and rather heavy falls occurred in Bihar and part of Chota Nagpur. On the other hand, in Orissa and the adjacent part of South-West Bengal falls were very scanty, and all the southern districts have received less than the normal amount. The falls at rain-measuring stations in the Kuch Bihar district were generally over 30 inches, in Jalpaiguri over 20 inches, and the fall at Dhubri was nearly 27 inches. The average fall for the whole of North Bengal is nearly 12 inches, more than four times the normal, and in Bihar it is nearly 4 inches with an excess of 1·4 inches. There is a small excess in Chota Nagpur and defect in Lower Bengal and Orissa, varying from one inch in South-West Bengal to more than two inches in Orissa.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the six meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Saturday, the 13th of July 1895 :—

The debate on the Bengal Provincial Service Budget for 1895-96, held in the Lieutenant-Governor's Council, on Saturday, the 30th March 1895, especially the remarks of the Hon'ble J. G. Womack on the subject of the purchase of stores in this country and the Lieutenant-Governor's reply.

(1) The remarks of the Hon'ble Mr. Playfair, the Hon'ble Lieutenant-General Sir H. Brackenbury, and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor on the same subject in the discussions of the Financial Statement of the Government of India for 1895-96, held in the Council of the Governor-General of India, which met on the 28th March 1895.

(2) Letter from the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department, No. 4384A., dated 31st August 1894, submitting to the Government of India, Public Works Department, the statement of expenditure on stores in the General and Irrigation Branches of the Public Works Department in Bengal for the year 1893-94.

(3) Letter from the Government of India, Finance and Commerce Department, No. 1426S R., dated 25th March 1895, pointing out that, as it is understood several of the principal engineering firms in India now possess the apparatus necessary for the proper testing both of the raw material and of the finished product, the fullest use should be made, subject to the prescribed precautions, of the liberty to procure supplies in India.

REMARKS.—In his speech at the meeting of the Bengal Council on the 30th March 1895, read above, the Lieutenant-Governor proposed to take steps to have a return prepared annually and laid before the Council on the next recurring occasion to show what the nature of the stores is which are purchased in England and those purchased in India.

2. In fulfilment of the above promise, the following information is compiled and published, showing the operations of the Public Works Department of this Province in 1893-94 in respect of purchases of stores in England and locally.

3. The total cost of stores entirely obtained from England was Rs. 2,62,492, the principal items of which are the following:—

A

Paddle steamer to be used on the Sone Canals, Rs. 49,584. The hull was sent out from England in parts and was put together and the plates rivetted and fixed at the Dehri Workshops, where the necessary wood-work, &c., were also supplied and fitted. The engines were imported in pieces, and, with the rest of the machinery, were fitted and fixed at these shops.

Bruce's dredgers, for use on the Sone Canals, Rs. 19,528. The machinery and boiler for these dredgers were obtained from England, the former in pieces which were put together and fixed at the Dehri Workshops. The hull and other parts were made and the complete finishing up done at these shops.

Vertical boiler, Rs. 3,891. One of Tangye's make, 7′-8″ high and 3′-2″ diameter with two cross tubes. It was sent out in one piece and erected through the agency of the Sibpur Workshops for the electric-lighting at the Eden Gardens.

Two steel boilers, Rs. 4,709. These were obtained in England from John Fowler & Co. for the Government steam launch Aurora. They came out whole and were fitted into the steamer at the Cuttack Workshops.

Rolled iron joists, Rs. 17,168. These were required for use in the new Stationery Warehouse, the Campbell Hospital, and other buildings.

T-iron, Rs. 20,353. These were obtained both for use in the roofs of above buildings as well as for general purposes at the several Government workshops.

Corrugated iron sheets, Rs. 45,601. This material is largely used for sheds, latrines, walling, &c., and is consequently indented for regularly to meet the many demands for it.

B

Plate steel,	Rs. 3,889	These materials were brought on to stock when sent out, and were used as required on various works executed at the Government Workshops at Sibpur, Dehri, and Cuttack.
Angle iron,	,, 14,071
Round iron,	,, 2,694
Plate ,,	,, 18,966
Flat ,,	4,359
Mild steel sheet	2,573

Copper tape, 3,850. This was brought on to the stock of the 1st Calcutta Division and distributed when lightning conductors were needed.

Cement, Rs.	20,080	These materials were obtained for use in the various new works and repairs executed to Government buildings.
Paints ,,	9,605

and [illegible] group A, nor of the materials detailed under as Government knows, even sent out roughly made up to be finished at workshops in this country.

4. The total cost of stores of European manufacture purchased in India on the score of urgency was Rs. 35,540. The principal items which make up this total are the following:—

Corrugated iron sheets, Rs. 2,094. These sheets were urgently required for bridges on the Tirihana-Bagdogra Road, the early completion of which was necessary to maintain through communication.

Rolled iron joists, Rs. 17,359. These joists were required for repairs to several Calcutta buildings, special repairs to the Eden Sanitarium at Darjeeling, quadrennial repairs to buildings in the Balasore Division, and for urgent miscellaneous works executed at the Sibpur Workshops. These requirements were such as could not be foreseen and the indenting for these articles from England would have caused delay.

Plate iron, Rs. 2,359
Angle „ „ 4,310
Flat „ „ 1,928

These materials had to be purchased locally for the Sibpur Workshops in connection with urgent orders, which could not have been foreseen and which could not without delay have been kept in abeyance to allow of the articles being indented for from England.

Taking the India Office prices, and adding freight and packing charges, the cost of these articles, if purchased in England, would have been only Rs. 31,986, so that Government paid 11 per cent. more through buying them in India than it would have paid in England.

5. The total cost of stores manufactured in India, partly from imported material and partly from indigenous material, and substituted for stores formerly imported, was Rs. 85,315, the principal items being as follows:—

Iron mud barges, Rs. 35,464. These were for use on the Sone Canals and were made up chiefly from iron plates imported from England. The fitting, putting together and finishing off were done at the Dehri Workshops.

Cast-iron railings, Rs. 2,698
Cast-iron columns „ 2,485

These were made up at the Sibpur Workshops for use in various Government buildings.

Galvanized iron tanks, Rs 1,440. These were required for storage purposes in connection with the supply of water, and were made up locally from imported galvanized iron sheets.

Galvanized iron pipes, Rs. 4,482. The pipes were procured from England in market lengths, but cut fitted and fixed at the several works where a water supply was being laid on.

Wrought-iron ladders of sizes, Rs. 1,135
Ditto gratings of sizes „ 3,506

These were required in connection with buildings, the former for giving access to roofs, and the latter for jails, treasuries, &c., and were made up at the Sibpur Government Work-shops.

Wrought-iron screw shutters, Rs 1,627
Ditto framed shutters „ 1,162
Bolts, nuts and washers „ 2,636
Ditto for dredgers „ 5,250
Cast-iron pinion for dredgers „ 3,000
Iron work for lock gates „ 9,843

These were needed for irrigation works in the province, and were made up at the Government Workshops at Dehri, Cuttack and Sibpur from imported material worked into its finished shape in this country.

Brass butt hinges, Rs. 2,326. Required for doors and windows in various buildings and made at the Sibpur Workshops.

Barákar pig iron, Rs. 3,205. Used for cast iron work done in the Government Workshops.

Rope, manilla, Rs. 1,752. Purchased for use by the Irrigation Department.

6. Corresponding information as to the transactions of 1894-95 will be published as soon as the figures are received.

7. The Lieutenant-Governor is anxious to carry out to the fullest extent possible the policy prescribed by the Government of India in their Resolution No. 1426S.R. of 25th March 1895, quoted above, and has addressed the principal firms in Calcutta to ascertain whether they are able to supply any of the articles mentioned in paragraph 3 of this Resolution, subject to the conditions (a) that they are not imported into India in a finished state, (b) that machinery exists for the application of sufficient tests as to quality and workmanship, and (c) that the price does not exceed the cost at which such articles can be procured through the Secretary of State for India.

ORDER.—Ordered, that a copy of this Resolution be published in the Supplement to the next issue of the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, the Calcutta Trades' Association, and the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

WORKING OF THE ANTHROPOMETRIC SYSTEM FOR THE IDENTIFICATION OF OLD OFFENDERS IN THE LOWER PROVINCES.

No. 10552A., dated Calcutta, the 26th June 1895.

From—E. R. HENRY, Esq., I.C.S., Inspector-General of Police, L. P.,
To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

IN continuation of previous reports, I submit information of the progress made in the districts of the Lower Provinces in working the anthropometric system for the identification of old offenders.

1. Letter No 1732, dated the 25th February 1893, from the Inspector-General of Police, Lower Provinces, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.
2. Letter No. 6353, dated the 1st May 1894, from the Inspector-General of Police, Lower Provinces, to the Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

In the reports specified in the margin of this paragraph, full explanation is given of the rules under which the system of measuring, selection of persons to be measured, classification of results, and system of search is carried out.

Arrangements made in all districts for the early registration of unidentified accused, for their being measured, and a reference made to Central office before disposal of their cases.

II.—I may now point out that in all districts attention is concentrated on unidentified accused criminals. As soon as a person is arrested on a charge of having committed an offence against property, if the local police are unable to ascertain or verify his antecedents, he is dealt with under the rules laid down for "unidentified" suspects. At each sub-division, the unit in these provinces of criminal administration, there is a Court Sub-Inspector whose special duty it is to look after and prosecute police cases. This officer is required, as soon as an unidentified person is sent up in police custody, to enter his name and other particulars in a register, to forward by the first post this nominal roll to the Inspector-General's office, and to arrange for measuring him without delay. The object of this rule is to enable the Central office to maintain check, so that no unidentified accused shall, through omission, escape measurement.

The Court Sub-Inspector having taken the measurements and left thumb impression on a card in prescribed form, forwards it to the Central office and awaits a reply before the case against the accused is disposed of in Court. On receipt of the card, the Central office institute search, and if the identity of the suspect is made out, send a reply by return post informing the requisitioning Court officer of the suspect's real name and residence, and giving details of all previous convictions on record against him. On receipt, this reply is placed before the trying Magistrate, who, ordinarily, grants a remand to enable the prosecuting police to summon witnesses and prove the previous convictions in the manner required by law (section 511, C. P. C.).

Means devised to enable (a) station officers, (b) Court Police to verify antecedents of accused persons.

III.—Much attention has been devoted to improving the means of enquiry within reach of the District Police. Under existing rules, when a person is convicted of certain specified offences, his name and details of the case are recorded in a book known as the Conviction Register, the entries in which are scrutinised once a week by a Magistrate and authenticated by his signature. At the same time, a copy of the entries is forwarded to the police station which sent the accused for trial, where they are transcribed into Register XIII, which contains information concerning the past criminality of all persons resident within the police station jurisdiction, and corresponds for the station area with the Conviction Register for the district area.

Complete indexes to Conviction Register for a period of from 10 to 20 years, prepared on an improved principle supplied to the 128 Sub-divisional Court offices of the province.

For the use of the Court Police, indexes on an improved principle to this Register, for a period of from 10 to 20 years, for all districts have been prepared, and copies given to all Court offices. The indexing has been devised on a system, the salient points of which are that the confusion arising from the varying spelling of names is discounted, and the person and his father's name are simultaneously traced by the one process of search. In practice it answers admirably.

Each station officer has thus the means of ascertaining whether a resident of his jurisdiction has, or has not, been previously convicted, and must certify accordingly when sending an accused for trial, or state that he cannot be identified. Court Sub-Inspectors check the certificates of the investigating police, certifying that they have searched their Conviction Register indexes. The preparation of these indexes has given much labour, but that it has not been given in vain is indicated by the results of previous convictions proved during 1894, the percentage being higher than ever previously obtained.

Circumstances under which aid of anthropometry utilised.

IV.—The system now in force appears to provide the fullest check possible under existing conditions, and when the accused is a resident of the district, or if resident of another district, gives his correct name and residence, the Court Police require no assistance in verifying antecedents. It is only when the suspect is a foreigner or gives an incorrect name that the local police are powerless and have to apply to the Central office for information.

One of the successful cases of the year is a good instance of the effectiveness of the anthropometric system. A man was caught in Backergunge breaking open a box in a house which he had burglariously entered. Interrogatory was of no avail as he feigned dumbness. His measurements were taken before he was sent to the Civil Surgeon to be kept under observation. The Civil Surgeon certified the man to be dumb; the Central office, however, identified him as Saroda Charan Bose, an old offender, twice previously convicted, a resident of Khaitpara village in Khulna. Acting on this information the local police were able to produce evidence which satisfied the Judge at the trial that the accused was in reality Saroda Charan Bose of Khaitpara; that he was shamming dumbness, and that he was an old offender; he was sentenced to four years' imprisonment. But for the anthropometric system this criminal would doubtless have been treated with special leniency as an unfortunate suffering from the pitiable disability of loss of speech.

Successful cases of identification during 1894 and percentage of successful cases to total number of unidentified in all Bengal districts.

V.—During the year 1894, of the persons sent for trial charged with having committed offence against the person and property or property, the local police succeeded in identifying all but 536. Of these 536, the identity of 112, or nearly 21 per cent., was established by means of anthropometry upon information supplied by the Central office, the previous convictions on record against these persons being duly established in Court. These figures represent results in their least favourable light, for of the 424 unidentified, only 375 were convicted; and as it is only in the case of these latter that establishing identity and proving previous criminality could have been of avail, the proportion of successful cases might be calculated accordingly. In addition, I find that 51 of the persons who remained unidentified at the close of the year were Nepalese, who came over the border and committed crime in Jalpaiguri and Champaran. The anthropometric system not being employed in Nepal, their identification by means of it was not to be hoped for. There were also 19 juveniles or women who, under our rules, are not measured. If, therefore, impossible cases are eliminated, it will be seen that the results obtained were as good as could have been expected in the second year of bringing the system into practical working, and may be thus stated:—Of the total number of unidentified persons convicted in Bengal districts, 23 per cent. were recognised by means of anthropometry and their previous criminality proved in Court. Successful cases came from 32 districts and the Railway Police. There were, besides, 28 identifications for the Calcutta Police, making a total for the Province of 140 successful cases.

In estimating the value of these results, it must be borne in mind that the Bengal system applies to dangerous criminals only, and that in addition to identifying, the Central office furnishes in all instances full information of previous criminality. "In Paris every person arrested for any offence is at once subjected to the process of measuring, and is sometimes photographed before being taken before a Magistrate. It would not be consistent with English ideas to entrust to the police an arbitrary power of measuring or photographing every person arrested, without regard to the necessity for the purposes of justice of discovering his antecedents and character." (Blue Book C 7263. The Report of the Committee appointed by the Secretary of State for the Home Department to enquire into the best means available for identifying habitual criminals.) In Bengal the duty of measuring is entrusted to police officers at over 100 different centres, and not "as in Paris to a few incessantly-practised experts, working for many hours every day in the same room under skilled supervision." (Fingerprint Directories by F. Galton, F.R.S., London, 1875, page 56.) No comparison between the figured results obtained in France and Bengal can therefore be usefully instituted. I may add that the Committee whose report is quoted, are of opinion that in England it will be necessary to permanently record the measurements of about 4,500 convicts yearly, their selection being made upon considerations similar to those which have determined selection in Bengal. Their Report, presented to the House of Commons in 1894, recommends the adoption in England of a modified anthropometric system, the details of which correspond in all essential particulars with those of the system introduced in Bengal in the beginning of 1892. The one difference is that while advocating the employment of the measurements of length and breadth of head, left middle finger, forearm and foot for purposes of classification, they are of opinion that finger impressions should be substituted for height measurement as the sixth factor in classifying. So far the system of classifying adopted in this province, judged by the results of actual working, has answered well, and it is not under contemplation to make any change in it. As the number of cards increases, further sub-classification may be needed, and the thumb impression will then be made use of for the purpose.

Criminal record for Province up to the end of 1894.

VI.—In round numbers, 18,000 cards had been received for record up to the close of the year; 1,500 cards of deceased criminals were destroyed; in addition, 2,500 cards of prisoners undergoing long sentences have been kept apart, to be brought into the search almirahs three months before the earliest date of expiry of sentence, the actual number of cards arranged in the search almirahs being thus reduced to 14,000. Bengal is thus building up a record of the criminality of all recidivists, which, in time, will be more complete and contain information in a more accessible form, than the record possessed by the police in England or in any English colony or dependency.

Number of police officers competent to measure and take finger impressions.

VII. Each year between 120 and 150 English-knowing officers, recruited on the results of competitive examination for the post of Sub-Inspector, before being drafted to districts, are sent for three months to the Police Training School where, in addition to instruction in other subjects, they are taught anthropometry in all its branches, and on leaving are competent not only to measure, but to fill in search slips and search for cards. There are now a large number of officers scattered over the districts of the province, who are competent measurers; they are periodically subjected to examination by the Deputy Inspectors-General and myself, and by the skilled measurers, who visit each district in turn, once in six months. Acquaintance with the working details of anthropometry and taking finger impressions has thus been widely diffused amongst the police. As already reported, officers have been trained for other provinces. Mr. Paget, District Superintendent, who received special instruction at the Central office, is now on deputation in the North-Western Provinces to assist in the introduction of anthropometry there. Inspector Ram Sadai Mukerjea, sent to instruct the Bombay Police, fulfilled his task so satisfactorily as to earn the special commendation of the Inspector-General, Commissioner of Police and of the other officers instructed. Copies of the pamphlet on "Criminal identification by means of Anthropometry in Bengal" have, at their request, been supplied to several Governments and Administrations, and also recently under orders from the India Office to the Home Office in England.

Pabna.—Rainfall 2·06. Weather hot and rainy. The flood water has damaged the crops on low lands. Prospects of crops on high lands good. Price of common rice stationary. Fodder sufficient.

Dacca.—Rainfall 1·08. Weather cloudy. The sudden rise of the river in the Manikganj subdivision has done some damage to aus and aman paddy. The extent of damage is being enquired into. Common rice sells at 19 seers per rupee. No cattle-disease. Fodder plentiful.

Chittagong.—Rainfall 6·94. Weather cooler. Cultivation of aman progressing. Water and fodder sufficient. Common rice selling at 18 seers per rupee.

Patna.—Rainfall 4·29 at Sadar, deficient at Barh and Bihar. It is quite sufficient for bhadoi, but more rain is much needed for transplantation of paddy. Condition of cattle good, and supply of fodder and water sufficient. Common rice selling from 17 to 18 seers per rupee.

Bhagalpur.—Weather hot and rainy. Rainfall 1·96. This was insufficient for transplantation of paddy except on very low lands, but it is raining heavily today (22nd July). Prospects on the whole good. Common rice sells at 17 seers 10 chitaks per rupee. Fodder and water sufficient.

Purnea.—Rainfall 5·49. Prospects of bhadoi crops and jute continue good. Transplantation of aghani going on favourably. No cattle-disease. Fodder and water sufficient. Common rice selling from 15 to 20 seers per rupee at Sadar.

Cuttack.—Rainfall ·88. Weather seasonable. Beali being weeded. Transplantation in flooded tracts going on. More rain wanted. Condition of cattle good. Fodder sufficient. Rice sells from 11 seers 13 chitaks to 25 seers per rupee.

General Summary.—There was good general rain all over the province, except in the Burdwan and Presidency Divisions, where the falls were scanty. In almost all districts of these two Divisions the cultivation of the winter rice crop is much retarded, and in parts of Bihar and Orissa too more rain is required for transplanting operations. Prospects of all bhadoi crops, including aus rice and jute, and of sugarcane are generally favourable. In Pabna and Dacca the crops on low lands are reported to have been somewhat damaged by floods. Cattle-disease in Dinajpur is decreasing; in other districts the cattle are in good condition. The price of common rice continues almost stationary.
